REDUCED TO THE ESSENTIALS

For vintner Christoph Edelbauer in Langenlois, everything is in harmony with nature and with the Kamp Valley. His winery, his work and his wine.

Langenlois, spring 2019

CONSISTENT. He knows what he wants, loves a challenge and goes his own way, straightforward and consistent. Christoph Edelbauer pressed his first vintage in 2003, and now the winemaker cultivates 12 acres of vineyards in the Kamp Valley. He processes his grapes in his architecturally sophisticated winery, completed in 2013, among the grapevines in Langenlois.

AWARE. In everything he does, Christoph Edelbauer is mindful of the sensible use of resources. The 34-year-old farms his vineyards organically, he has had all his new construction done using energy-efficient principles and his cellars are cooled with environmentally friendly Earth-tubes.

SCALED BACK. Scaled back, and the better for it, is the design of the Edelbauer facilities: direct silkscreening on the bottles has replaced labels, printing on the boxes is minimalist, and the business cards and stationery are made from FSC (Forest Stewardship Council)-certified paper. This is a comprehensive approach to reducing consumption in all areas.

MODEST. Christoph Edelbauer's wines impress with simplicity. They are straightforward, relaxed and at the same time exciting - just as his product range is. Grüner Veltliner, Riesling and Pinot Noir are his hallmarks. His vineyards are called Neuberg, Spiegel, Haasel, Steinhaus and Käfertal.

WITH CONVICTION. Christoph Edelbauer: "Sustainable thinking and action are deeply rooted in me. Therefore, it's important to me that our winery maintains a manageable size. This is the only way I can devote myself to the entire winemaking process with conviction."

Consistent as a vintner. Scaled back in his works. Essentially the Kamp Valley. Christoph Edelbauer is prepared to show what the new Kamp Valley represents.
